Ernest Dunham of Mansfield went to he house of James Farnham at Mans-ield Hollow Monday morning to take rders for graceries, as was bis custom, orders for groceries, as was his custom, but he could get no response and he roon saw the old men lying upon the floor. Investigation showed that he was dead. There was a chair tipped over and evidently the old man had attempted to pull the bed clothes from the bed. Medical Examiner E. G. Sumner was away, so Medical Examiner R. C. White of this city was notified, and pronounced death due to anoplexy. It looked as though Mr. Farnham had died some time Sunday evening and that he had been sitting in his chair and when stricken fell over and the chair with 1 m.

Mr. Farnham was about 76 years old and had lived alone for about a year, since the death of his wife. He work-ed Saturday and to all appearances s in his usual good health, although this morning to make arrangements for the funeral.

Resolutions Concerning Laying of Adopted After Much Discussion.

The adjourned meeting of the board of aldermen was called to order Monday evening by Mayor Dunn at 7.50 with Aldermen Dawson, Holmes, Gelinas, Pollard and Smith in attendance, with a large number of the city's representative citizens.

Hearings were held concerning the laying of tracks and a switch on Main street for use by the Connecticut com-street for use by the Connecticut com-pary in entering its proposed car barn to be crected thereon and a proposed an endiment to the city charter relative to sidewalks.

Engineer Harke of the Connecticu Engineer Harke of the Connecticut company appeared and explained the position of the company in asking to put in a switch and lay tracks to the proposed car barn on Main street near the Willimantic cemetery. He said it was the company's desire to lay a double track across the sidewalk just east of the cemetery and stated that the company would pave both tracks and between, clear in across the sidewalk to the company's land.
